I am currently working as a FullStack developer Intern at aDMe. Here, I have designed a server using Node.js and Express.js for integration with WhatsApp using the Baileys library. Moving on, I also implemented a FullStack automated AI subtitle generator application that takes a video as an input and embeds AI generated subtitles to it using text-to-speech API and webassembly ffmpeg along with IndexedDB to reduce load on server. I created another cloud based version of it using AWS Cognito for authentication and AWS S3 for storing videos while storing data on a PostgreSQL database.
